Summary

I am the Chairman and co-founder of CitizenGrown. We're introducing a fair and more just economic model for the cannabis industry. We're giving away our automated home growing tech to underserved communities and offering the Citizens of those communities a monthly income stream from the sale of our cannabis. We also provide education and training on money management and entrepreneurship. Plus, we invest in revitalization projects in our partner communities. In addition I'm also the founder of Canty Ventures and Hashstoria dispensaries.

Recommendations

A preview of what LinkedIn members have to say about Jedd:

" Jedd knows exactly how to pitch a solid mailer campaign and measure the results every time. He is a team player, efficient, and knows how to effectively manage and generate outbound email sales. I would highly recommend him for a B2C marketing position that is focused on acquisition, recapture and retention sales.

" George is an innovative thinker, a creative problem-solver and is constantly looking for ways for us to outdistance our rivals. Any organization he joins instantly becomes better. And to top it all off, he's a classy person and a terrific colleague who I truly enjoy working with. A decade from now, he'll have achieved "guru" status. He's that good.
