Re: Monument and Cathedral Holdings, Inc. American Express Charges

Dear James:

As you know, this firm represents Monument and Cathedral Holdings, Inc. ("Monument") in connection with the above referenced credit card account from which your client was issued a charge card on behalf of the Monument affiliate and Mr. Arrington's employer, Money Map Press ("MMP" or the "Company"). Please accept this letter as a summary of the unauthorized non business-related American Express ("AMEX") charges made by your client on his company-issued AMEX charge account for the first six months of 2018.

Your client knew that he was not authorized to make non business-related purchases on the AMEX card issued to him, as exemplified by the attached Corporate Card Application form signed by Mr. Arrington on December 2, 2014. An audit of those charges revealed personal charges that in no way pertained to Company business. These charges include, but are not limited to concert tickets, travel expenses, clothing jewelry and billboard ads – none of which are related to the work that this employee was performing for the Company. The attached statements include the following charges.

The charges outlined below related to goods and services that have no relation to Company business:

- Prorankter - (Undetermined) – January, February, March Statements - $567.00
- 1800 Got Junk - (Junk Removal) – February and March Statements - $1,400.00

In addition to those charges, which total losses of nine hundred twenty-six thousand four hundred ten dollars and thirty-five cents ($926,410.35), it appears that Mr. Arrington engaged various service providers that may have provided some services of a business-related nature for the Company to provide similar services for Mr. Arrington's personal business activities. We are in the process of attempting to determine if any of these charges were for services that were actually provided for the benefit of the Company. As I have told you on our initial telephone conversation and subsequent emails, we can only get to the bottom of this with Mr. Arrington's assistance. To the extent that he does not do so cooperatively now, we will include all of these charges in our claim of damages and simply work this out via discovery.

As you know, charges of over one million dollars were also incurred for the month of July, 2018 that are under dispute with AMEX, but will likely be the subject of additional claims. Further, we are reviewing AMEX statements from prior years and anticipate that there will be claims related to charges that did not relate to Company business incurred and paid by the Company prior to this year. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Beyond these personal charges, your August 22 email makes various veiled claims concerning his termination from MMP and MMP's business. If there is any substance to this, it would only make sense for you articulate and specify exactly what actions you believe were improper.

I look forward to hearing from you. Unless the next communication from you provides a substantive response, we see no possible path whereby these claims are resolved without court involvement.

Sincerely,

William M. Krulak, Jr.
